GLASS-OWEN BILL IS PASSED

Senate Puts Administration Currency Bill Through in Vote of 43 to 35

PRESIDENT WILL SIGN BILL AT SIX O'CLOCK

Bristow Made One Last Bitter Attack on Bill Before Final Passage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—By a vote of 43 to 35 the senate this afternoon adopted the conference report on the Glass-Owen currency bill. The engrossed bill is expected to reach the White House not later than 4 o'clock and President Wilson will sign it at 6 o'clock.

The house adjourned at 3:11 o'clock and the senate adjourned at 4:01 o'clock.

Bristow Denounced Bill

On the floor of the senate Bristow of Kansas bitterly attacked the bill and criticized Senator Owen, its author. He asserted that the measure contains all the big banking interests desire.

"The senator from Oklahoma," declared Bristow, "as a stockholder in a St. Louis bank voted in favor of his own interests."

Senator Bristow again denounced the provision which includes the secretary of agriculture in the organization, declaring that this made it purely a political committee composed of officers of the Wilson administration.

He was identified by Mrs. Arthur Cole and passenger on the robbed train, who met him on the street and recognized him. They say they followed him half an hour before they encountered a policeman and pointed him out.

Scores of pawn tickets were found in Bostick's pockets. Mrs. Cole identified the watch found in Bostick's pockets as the property of Engineer Robbins of the robbed train. Bostick claims that he worked for three months in the Southern Pacific round house and was there on the night of the robbery.

At Volkamps' trial it was shown that he had subsisted for eight months on choice cuts of beef, poultry, fish and sausages which he had taught his dog to steal from neighboring shops. The dog had been adopted by the gentleman who arrested his master. An effort will be made to reform it.

Woman Is Frozen Like Statue in The Icy River

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 23.—Standing like a statue on the ice of the Mississippi river, but half a block from a gigantic municipal Christmas tree, the body of a well dressed woman of about 35 years of age was found today frozen stiff. She evidently had leaped from the bridge, broken through the ice to her waist and died of exposure. One arm was broken, and the other was frozen above her head as if the woman had been overcome by the cold while gesticulating for help.

Firemen chopped the frozen body from the ice. The woman, who wore expensive furs and silks, was unidentified.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 23.—Princeton has taken another step toward a solution of the drinking problem among students.

This action by the dean has caused criticism by a few of the undergraduates who contend that it is ill-advised at the present time when so much has already been done for the bettering of conditions by the voluntary action of the students themselves.

AUTOS IN SNOW TWO DAYS AND NIGHTS

This Valley Looks Mighty Good to Men Who Came Through Storm

OVERLANDS DRIVEN FROM MINNESOTA

Experience Rather Unusual—One of the Brothers Locates Here

Two days and two nights in a snowstorm, twenty-two miles from the nearest town—in brief, that is the experience of two Minnesota families that came to Santa Ana in Overland automobiles. As they view this smiling valley they can hardly realize that but a few days ago they were strictly up against it.

W. B. and George Hutton and their families, four in each automobile, joined with two other automobiles to drive from Canyon City, Colo., to this state. The brothers had spent three months at Canyon City, to which place they drove their 1912 Overlands from Spring Valley, Minn.

Their troubles with snow occurred twenty-two miles out of Springville, Ariz. The storm caused them to stop. There was nothing else to it. So they pitched a tent, and let it snow. It was not long before there was three feet of the white covering on the ground, and they found themselves with mighty little food for twelve people. All there was in camp could easily have been eaten in one good meal by the even dozen people.

Two of the boys volunteered to go back to Springville for help. They got lost in the snow, but finally reached their destination. They lived a four-hour team and some men, and returned to the mountain pass. With the team, wagon and a cooking trail, the automobilists got out of the worst of the snow after a few miles heavy work. Returning to Springville, they rested up and took another route, that through Flagstaff, and eventually reached California by easy stages.

George Hutton has concluded to locate in Santa Ana. W. B. Hutton has taken a house on G street near Vance and will spend the winter here.

"Next spring I am going back to Minnesota," said he, "but in the end we are going to make Santa Ana our homes. We have seen a lot of country on our trip, and we saw nothing that can compare with this. The more I see of this fine section, the better I like it."

The Hutton brothers were well acquainted in Minnesota with James Wiseman and Nelson Warner, both now residents of Santa Ana.

PRESIDENT GOES SOUTH TONIGHT

Accompanied by Family He Will Spend Holiday Season at Pass Christian, Miss.

The president expects to do nothing his first week at Pass Christian but rest and recuperate from his recent severe illness. The last ten days of his stay the president will devote largely to the framing of his anti-trust message, which he will read to congress soon after his return to Washington. The president is expected, too, to select the members of the federal reserve board which will administer the new banking and currency law.

No Demonstration

In deference to the president's wishes there will be no demonstration either upon his arrival or departure at Pass Christian and the presidential party will be enabled to step into a waiting automobile without the usual crowds, for the short journey to "Beaulieu," the residence reserved for his occupancy.

The temporary "White House" is a ten-room mansion facing Mississippi sound.

Four Army Officers of Carrabao Society in Trouble With President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—President Wilson yesterday made public a letter addressed to Secretaries Garrison and Daniels, respectively, requesting that a very serious reprimand be administered to those army and navy officers who participated in the recent dinner of the military Order of the Carrabao, at which the administration's Philippine and other policies were satirized. The letter follows:

"The officers who were responsible for the program of the evening are certainly deserving of a very serious reprimand, and I hereby request that the general body of officers assembled at the dinner should have greeted the carrying out of such a program with apparent indifference to the fact that it violated some of the most dignified and sacred traditions of the service."

"I am told that the songs and other amusements of the evening were intended and regarded as 'fun.' What are we to think of officers of the army and navy of the United States who think it 'fun' to bring their official superiors into ridicule and the policies of the government which they are sworn to serve with unquestioned loyalty, into contempt? If this is their idea of fun, what is their idea of duty? If they do not hold their loyalty above all silly effervesences of childish wit, what about their professional duty to hold sacred?

"My purpose, therefore, in administering this reprimand, is to recall the men who are responsible for this lowering of standards, to their ideals; to remind them of the high conscience with which they ought to put duty above personal indulgence, and to think of themselves as responsible men and trusted soldiers, even while they are amusing themselves as diners-out."

[Signed] "WOODROW WILSON."

Secretaries Garrison and Daniels decided to administer the reprimand by transmitting a copy of the President's letter to each member of the entertainment committee.

BANKS ACCEPT NEW CURRENCY SYSTEM

Rush Applications for Membership—Pasadena and Colton on First List

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—What treasury officials regarded as an indication of how financial circles will receive the new federal currency system came yesterday from Boston in a message to Secretary McAdoo from the National Shawsant Bank, one of the largest institutions in New England. The message declared that the executive committee of the bank had voted unanimously to advise its directors to accept the new law and enter the system.

Receipts at the treasury of scores of informal applications from all parts of the country has led McAdoo to believe that there can be no question now that a large part of the national banks intend to come into the system. There are about 7500 national banks in the United States, and not more than a few hundred have wired their intention to apply for membership in the federal system, but a rush of applications is expected as soon as the bill is signed by President Wilson. Many of the banks, realizing that they cannot get in the first application and not caring particularly about the relative position they may obtain, are understood to be awaiting the signing of the bill.

Applications yesterday came from the following cities: Watertown, Iowa; Boston, Omaha, Westfield, N. J.; Chattanooga, Madison, Wis.; Lynchburg, Va.; Ottumwa, Iowa; Wilmington, Del.; Bloomington and Springfield, Ill.; Marion, Ind.; Columbia and Sedalia, Mo.; St. Johns, Ore.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Topeka and Parsons, Kan.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Pasadena and Colton, Calif.

Yesterday the city council executed a contract with the Santa Fe for the adjudication of certain property rights long in dispute between the city and the railroad, one condition of which is the building during 1915 of a new depot on the present site. It is promised that this will be of the same type and equally as desirable as the splendid reinforced concrete depot built by the Santa Fe at Redlands three years ago. This cost $40,000. Railroad officials declare that the new depot could not be built sooner, as appropriation for it had to be arranged for in the 1914 budget.

MRS. PANKHURST TO BE RE-ARRESTED

Must Serve Full Jail Term No Matter How Long a Time it May Take

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The home office has announced that Mrs. Pankhurst will be rearrested immediately if she returns from Switzerland, where she has gone to recuperate from the effects of her hunger and no-sleep strike. It is said she must complete her term of service in jail by piecemeal, no matter how long a time is required. The suffragettes say that upon Mrs. Pankhurst's next return sufficient precautions will be taken to prevent her arrest.

Rumors are in circulation that relations are strained between Miss Sylvia Pankhurst and Miss Christobel Pankhurst, the two daughters of the militant leader, in consequence of Miss Sylvia's determination to concentrate her campaign in the East End of London, and in efforts to cooperate with the members of the labor party. Miss Christobel disapproves of this scheme and is said to be withholding funds.

Some men who have investigated the subject are not aware that the cost of a corporate administration of an estate is no more, usually less, than when an individual trustee or executor is named.

The Orange County Savings & Trust Company, if you name it as your executor, will save your estate the losses that might occur should an individual act in that capacity, and the fees allowed it will be no more.

Yorba Linda Promoters Do Not Want Case Trial in This County

Mrs. W. H. H. Clayton Asks for Jury to Hear Case Against Werdin

Jacob Stern, the Janns Investment Company and the Yorba Linda Water Company do not want the trial of the big Yorba Linda water case held in this county. This morning attorneys Haas & Dunnigan and Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher gave notice that on January 9 at 10 o'clock they will move for a change of venue from Orange County to Los Angeles County. The ground upon which the request will be made is set forth in an affidavit of Edwin Janns, secretary of the Yorba Linda Water Company, stating that all of the defendants are residents of and have their places of business in Los Angeles.

This action was brought in the interest of the purchasers of land at Yorba Linda, who alleged that the promoters while selling the land had kept control of the water company, that they had failed to furnish the water promised to the purchasers of the land, that the water company had issued $175,000 bonds without consideration and was making assessments to raise money to pay the interest on the bonds. The case is of vital importance to the Yorba Linda land owners. They are represented by attorneys Francis J. Heney and State Senator Carr, who have received notice of the intention to ask for a change of venue.

The defendants have also filed a demurrer, alleging in some five typewritten pages numerous defects in the complaint.

Mrs. Clayton was arrested on a complaint sworn to by Werdin, charging her with insanity. A commission heard the case and declared Mrs. Clayton sane. She then asked damages, accusing Werdin of having maliciously prosecuted her.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

HOT WATER ON A FAMILY PET

Warrant is Issued for Mrs. Harrison of Placentia on Cruelty Charge

This morning G. A. Whidden, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, swore to a complaint charging a Mrs. Harrison of Placentia with cruelty to a dog. The cruelty consisted of a dash of hot water on the dog's back.

It seems that Placentia has been pretty well cleaned out of dogs lately. At least, that was the word given Constable C. E. Jackson, officer of the S. P. C. A., when he went to the place this morning. The constable was told that fifteen or twenty dogs have passed on to their happy hunting ground as the result of a distribution of poison.

While there Jackson was told the story of the hot water and the dog. The dog, one that escaped poisoning, belongs to B. A. Myers, who lives near Mrs. Harrison's house. The Myers family heard a fright of a howl, and some of them ran out to see what had happened. They saw their Fido running home from the direction of Mrs. Harrison's house and they saw Mrs. Harrison going from her yard into her house. When Fido arrived at his own bawlick he was still wet and howling. Moreover his coat of hair was still warm. The Myers family concluded that the dog had been treated to a hot shower that came unsolicited and as a surprise.

The water was not hot enough to take the hair off, but from all accounts it was hot enough to produce considerable of a yelp, enough so that the application of the bath might be termed a cruelty.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 23.—With huge seas sweeping over her, the big Canadian Pacific steamer Monteagle, Captain Halley, had to be hoisted to mid-Pacific on her present outward voyage from Vancouver to Hongkong. While the Empress of Asia was reeling off 18½ knots an hour, a wireless message was received from the Monteagle, stating that she was hoisted to latitude 53 north and longitude 160 west in a howling easterly gale. The Monteagle's officers reported that the barometer was down to 28.2, the lowest glass to be recorded on the Pacific in many years. The ship was hoisted to for about twenty-four hours, when the storm subsided somewhat and enabled her to proceed at slow speed.

PLAY FOOTBALL CHRISTMAS DAY

Teams Will Line Up for Spectacular Match Next Thursday

There is only two more days until the Christmas football game. New-comer seems to have quite a job to select a team out of the many stars that want to get in. There are more stars than stellar positions.

One of the most recent applicants for a job is "Shorty" Smith. When last seen he was looking for "Jack." He said he "sure wants to get in."

Another alumnus who used to be some star while in high school is Roy Catland. Incidentally he wants into the Thursday game. In Throop Polytechnic this year he played on the team that boasted the highest paid coach in Southern California. He may be able to make the alumni team but that remains to be seen.

The Christmas game will be played under the auspices of the high school just as the other games of the schedule have been played this year. The board of control of the high school student body has passed a motion that the funds to be or such amount of them as may be necessary be set aside to secure souvenirs—sweaters or some other reminder—for the members of this year's football team.

The managers are getting the field ready for the big game.

RUSSIAN COURT TRAIN WRECKED

Dowager Empress Just Escapes Injury—Several Arrests Made in Case

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—Despite the official assertion that a defect in the lighting apparatus caused an explosion, partly wrecking the Russian dowager's special train at Rostock last night, it leaked out today that several arrests had been made today in connection with the affair.

The train was awaiting Empress

Dowager Marie's arrival from Copenhagen, en route to St. Petersburg. If it had occurred a few minutes later she would have been aboard. Seven members of the train crew were badly injured in the mysterious explosion.

ENGLAND PLANS TO UNSEAT HUERTA

May Name Provisional President—Wilson Silent—Banks Open—Warships Arrive

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 23.—That British interests have hatched a scheme to buy out General Huerta and seat a provisional president sympathetic with their interests, is a widely-circulated rumor here. The story is to the effect that Lord Cowdray, head of the British Pearson interests, will surrender a 50-year right to a third of the earnings of the Tehuantepec Railway for 12,000,000 pesos in Mexican bonds. Three million of these will be given to Huerta, who will withdraw. The British government will then ask the powers to recognize a new provisional president, pending an election. The plans are said to have been outlined to President Wilson, but his attitude is unknown.

Banks Reopened
The Bank of London and Mexico made partial payments throughout the day to hundreds of depositors. The Banco Nacional and the Banco Central also reopened, refusing to take advantage of Huerta's proclamation of a holiday to permit them to recuperate. The officials of all three banks said they will have sufficient money if depositors give them time to make collections. It is generally believed that their assets are sufficient but that they are merely short of ready cash.

U. S. Battleships at Vera Cruz
VERA CRUZ, Dec. 23.—The battleships Kansas and Connecticut arrived here today. They passed Tampico en route southward and reported en route there. The local branch Bank of London and Mexico remained closed today.

BANKS WILL REMAIN OPEN IN SPITE OF DECREE
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 23.—Representatives of the banks belonging to the clearing house association, excepting the Bank of London and Mexico, met last night and decided to continue doing business, regardless of President Huerta's decree of a holiday until further notice, made yesterday afternoon. They will accept the Bank of London and Mexico's paper for collection only.

A run on the Banco de Londres y Mexico yesterday, which resulted in the declaration of a holiday, was due, it is said, to foreign speculation in the shares of the bank, about which sensational news is expected from Europe today. One local speculator is said to have cleared $100,000 by selling the bank's shares short.

Mercado in Hiding
EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 23.—American soldiers, rebel sympathizers and Mexican secret service men are seeking General Salvador Mercado, deposed commander of federal forces in Chihuahua. Mercado, under orders to proceed to Mexico City to stand trial for abandoning, fled to the American side when General Francisco Castro, former commander at Juarez, was appointed to succeed him at Ojinaga.

Mercado crossed the river at Presidio in disguise and is believed to be hiding along the border between Presidio and Marfa, Texas.

SHERIFF REFUSES TO CLOSE SALOONS ON GOVERNOR'S ORDER

BAKER, Ore., Dec. 23.—A clash is threatened between Governor West and Sheriff Rand of this county over the saloons at Copperfield. The citizens have appealed to the governor to close the saloons at Copperfield, saying they are a menace to life and property. Governor West ordered Sheriff Rand to close them. The sheriff refused to do so on the ground that he has not the constitutional power, and he was upheld by the attorney general. The governor in a message to Rand says to either close the saloons or he will come and do it personally. Sheriff Rand has replied that he will not alter his position.

State Offers to Arrange the Grade Matter if County Pays $500

Howard A. Wassum, representing the Associated Chambers of Commerce, will appear before the Board of Supervisors this afternoon to report the result of a conference that he had with state highway commission officials in Los Angeles. At the last meeting of the Supervisors, Wassum presented the petition of the Associated Chambers asking that the grade rising from La Habra Valley be reduced to at least five per cent. The request was granted, but at that time there appeared no way as to how to reach the result quickly, as the state contractor already is on the job.

Wassum received a proposition from the state commission that if the county would donate $500 to the cause, the state would pay the remainder, whatever it is. It is either that or the county make a contract with the state highway contractor to reduce the grade.

Open Bids
This afternoon the Supervisors opened bids for the construction of good roads in the Garden Grove-Anheim-Stanton triangle and for a small strip west of Orange. The bids were referred to the county highway commission.

THE PHILOSOPHER'S STONE

The Indian poet Tagore's story of "The Wandering Madman" furnishes Arthur Brisbane the text for one of his wonderful editorial-sermons in Sunday's Examiner.

Tagore, whose first name is Rabin-dranath, has received this year the Nobel prize for the best work in literature.

Nobel was the Scandinavian who invented nitroglycerine. He gave to the world dynamite that destroys life and makes war dangerous.

He left to civilization his vast fortune that prizes might be given each year for the best work of the human mind.

Tagore wrote his poems in the Bengali language of India.

As Brisbane briefs it, Tagore's story of "The Wandering Madman" is this:

An old man believed in the "touchstone" or "Philosopher's Stone."

Somewhere he thought could be found that magic stone with the touch that would change base metals to gold. He went along the shore of the ocean. With his right hand he picked up one stone after another, one pebble after another—thousands, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands of them.

Around his neck he had a chain of iron. And as he picked up each stone he touched it with the chain.

The Philosopher's Stone, if he found it, would change that iron chain to a chain of gold.

Day after day, and through the long years he hunted for that magic stone that was to make gold of iron and make of his restless, yearning heart a happy and contented spirit.

One day a boy asked the old man where he got that chain of gold on his neck.

And the poor, sorrowful old hunter looked down to find that the iron had changed to gold AND HE HAD NOT KNOWN WHEN THE CHANCE CAME OR WHAT STONE IT WAS THAT WORKED THE MIRACLE.

He had got so much in the habit of picking up stones and touching them against the iron chain that he no longer thought to look for the change from iron to gold.

At some time during his search HE HAD PICKED UP THE MAGIC STONE AND DROPPED IT.

The stone had done its work, the iron had changed to gold. But he did not know WHEN the thing had happened or WHICH was the stone that had accomplished the wonder.

Back he turned on his path. Old, bent, weary and hopeless, he started on the return journey along the shore of the ocean, which is THE SHORE OF LIFE AND TIME, and hopelessly sought to recover the opportunity neglected and missed.

Strange it seems that Brisbane's application of this wonderful story is almost wholly material, and thus becomes comparatively commonplace, when it might have been made to voice the supreme tragedy of life.

Brisbane points out that—

When that poor madman began his search for the touchstone HE DID THE WORK WELL AND CAREFULLY.

He believed then, AS YOU BELIEVE NOW, that he would CONTINUE to do his work attentively and seize the chance, seize the precious stone of opportunity as soon as it came within his reach.

But little by little he grew careless—DO YOU GROW CARELESS?

And so on with the material application in all its phases, but not a word about the supreme tragedy of spiritual failure.

Did Brisbane throw away this great opportunity without knowing it was his? Did the Philosopher's Stone drop from his tired hand while his weary brain for a moment rested?

Or did his literary genius lead him purposely to leave to the minds of his readers the opportunity to write in their own words on the tablets of their hearts the better part of the sermon?

The nearest approach of the writer to the highest and best application of Tagore's story is found in these passages:

Are you this man searching for the touchstone of success and magic AND NOT KNOWING WHEN YOU PICK IT UP?

Millions of human beings once actually hunted for the Philosopher's Stone, believing that it would change iron to gold. The beginning of the science of chemistry was the work of the ancient alchemists, who, in their struggles to manufacture gold artificially, discovered many important scientific truths that are now of great value to mankind.

They did not learn how to change lead, iron or copper to gold; but they learned how to change human thought and experiment into pure golden, priceless, scientific knowledge.

One single experiment resulting in the discovery of a new scientific truth was worth more in actual wealth to the people of the earth than would have been the creation of a mountain of gold a thousand miles high.

There is a limit to the use that men can make of gold, but no limit to the use that men can make of that better gold, ABSOLUTE TRUTH AND KNOWLEDGE.

But in the main, stress and iteration are all along material lines; while the real Philosopher's Stone that so many millions of us do not recognize when we hold it in our hands is something infinitely more precious than that which would transmute base metals into gold or in any way add to our material wealth or advance us to any place of honor.

The education we might have got in the days of our youth; the friend we might have made; the power of appreciation of aesthetic values that by cultivation we might have acquired; the love and home we might have saved from death and woe; the right, though stony, road we might have taken at the parting of the ways; the helping hand withheld; the forgiveness ungiven; the love unexpressed in word or deed;—these are the true "touchstones" that so many millions of men have held in their hands and knew it not.

And the saddest thing in life is the sadness and hopelessness of their faces as they go groping their weary way back over the pathway of life in their useless search for happiness—for the Philosopher's Stone they once held in their hands and threw aside.

The sun was sinking low in the west, the sky was of gold.

The madman returned on his footsteps to seek anew the lost treasure, with his strength gone, his body bent and his heart in the dust, like a tree uprooted.

Alderman: What's that?

Comptroller Metz: Five years of successful accounting experience, plus approval by my accounting chiefs.

Thousands of Unemployed

Editor Register:—There are said to be at the present time throughout the nation fully five million people out of work. Southern California is filled to overflowing with men and women who beg for work at any reasonable wage. There are twenty thousand idle in Los Angeles, and in our own town several hundred are out of work.

It is hard to think that even in Santa Ana, one of the richest towns in the state, there will be many jobless and hungry on Christmas day. Many of these idle ones are without funds, and when hungry they beg, are arrested and placed in the already crowded jails.

It is not charity that is wanted but work, needed at once for these men and women. Surely at this Christmas time the spectacle of so many suffering for the necessities of life ought to touch the heart of every one of us so that we may find some way to take care of the poor and destitute by providing work for them.

However, conditions are rapidly drawing to a head. The large increase in the already enormous army of the unemployed is a sure and convincing sign that the coming of the social revolution is not far distant.

About Judge Lindsey

To the Editor:—So many of the people of Orange County have been interested in Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, and many had heard that there was a movement on in his city to defeat him for his position as judge, that I thought it might be well if they could see the contents of the following article, which was published in the December 6 number of "The Survey."

This will strengthen the good opinion which all those who know anything about Judge Lindsey and his work have of him. Yours very truly,

R. J. HAMILTON.

County Secretary Y. M. C. A. Santa Ana, Dec. 20, 1913.

The Beast and a Boomerang

Judge Lindsey is still fighting the Beast in Denver. In a pamphlet entitled "A Secret Political League, Who and What It Is, and Court Cases Involving the Sex Problem," he answers its latest attack and lays bare its methods—old methods, used in every city when reform grows real and menacing.

The people of Denver have stood by Judge Lindsey and his court through repeated elections; the weapons left to his enemies are deliberate misrepresentation of cases tried in the juvenile court, personal slander, and barren attempts at recall promoted for the sake of publicity.

The pamphlet discloses the character of the so-called Woman's Protective League, the organization which has attacked the juvenile court. It shows that the league is a fictitious organization, with one known woman member, and the former president of a street railway company is its most active supporter.

The identity of this league with the privileged interests of Denver, which Judge Lindsey has heretofore pilloried before the nation, needs no further comment than the passages quoted by Miss Parks from his present broadside.

The interest of the pamphlet lies not so much in the overwhelming rout of these critics as in its description of the methods which have made the juvenile court of Denver the great human institution that it is.

The cases on which the league based its charges against the court were sex cases, involving the protection of girls. Its accusations were distributed broadcast through circulars with trumped-up evidence taken from jail blotters and exaggerated or partially suppressed reports of actual cases. Charge after charge is taken up by Judge Lindsey in full, and in showing this falsity he discusses the whole question of the handling of such cases in the juvenile court.

The importance of an elastic probation law, as opposed to the old severity of sentence which made testimony and convictions difficult to secure; the effort to get such a law passed; the avoidance of publicity and consequent degradation; the possibility of winning confidences and confessions, and of starting the boy and girl out again, safe instead of ruined—these are part of the policy of the juvenile court. It is against such a wise, delicate and courageous handling of a terrible problem that criticism—if there is criticism—must be directed. It must be directed against a judge who has made it his office to help, instead of dryly to administer the law; and who is, at the same time, uncompromisingly the foe of hypocrisy and corruption.

No those privileged interests in Denver hate Judge Lindsey. Of course they do. He cares for human life—boys, girls, men and women; they care for money. We are glad that the Beast has failed in it once more; that the charges against the juvenile court have been publicly examined and proved to be untrue. We did not need to read Judge Lindsey's pamphlet to disbelieve them; but we do need to read it as a live record of a big work, carried on unflinchingly in the face of harassing annoyances and ill health; a record of devotion and splendid achievement.

BIG HOTEL PLAN TO BE XMAS GIFT FOR CITY OF POMONA

POMONA, Dec. 23.—That Pomona's Christmas present will be the announcement that definite arrangements have been made for the erection of a $250,000 tourist hotel-theater-bank building is declared very probable following the visit here yesterday of T. W. Newman, a Los Angeles bond broker, who is largely interested in the project.

While Mr. Newman declared that he was not yet in a position to make a statement regarding the hotel, it is learned from a good source that the whole matter is now in the stages of completion, having gone so far as to cause the report that the Foss Designing and Construction Company of Pomona would do the building.

A well-known Los Angeles architect has prepared plans for one of the finest structures of its kind in Southern California.

MISS NEWMAN WINS

Omega Watch Contest Bracelet Awarded—She Had List of 717 Correct Words

Miss Vivian Newman of 305 West First street was the lucky winner of the handsome gold bracelet watch awarded in the Omega Watch Contest conducted by Carl G. Strock, the jeweler. The award was made last night, Miss Newman's list showing 717 correct words. Waldo S. Wehrly had the second largest list with 643 words.

The contest awakened very lively competition. There were 184 contestants, and their lists ranged from eighty-three words for the lowest number to 2205 words for the highest.

All the lists contained many words that could not be counted under the rules governing the contest. Proper names, obsolete words and foreign words were eliminated.

Many of the lists showed much research and study in their preparation. In addition to Webster's, medical, musical and other technical dictionaries were resorted to for words.

Mrs. Mary E. Buerger's list while comparatively short, was a work of art. The cover contained the tree of knowledge surmounted by a watch dial, done in water colors.

We, the Japanese members of the First Congregational church, are going to celebrate Christmas next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Congregational church, corner Main and Sixth streets.

Very interesting Christmas plays are going to be presented. The plays will be strictly Japanese, but you will not be puzzled, since they will be well explained by Mr. Staff, the pastor of the Congregational church. You will see the peculiarities of the foreign customs, which will surely interest you, and be worth your coming. Do not forget that Santa Claus will appear on his due time and will catch you if you stick your heads high enough so that he can see.

We extend our hearty welcome to you all. Japanese Members of First Congregational Church.

Rice Recital Tonight

Prof. Leon Rice, assisted by his wife, the talented pianist, attracted a large and enthusiastic audience to the First Methodist church last night, where the two musicians charmed their hearers with a splendid musical program. Their artistic work had already received the seal of approval in Santa Ana, and it was demonstrated last night by the large attendance that they have to none of their popularity since their appearance here a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon will give another recital tonight at the church and an equally large audience is expected as was out last evening. A silver offering will be taken.

Young Apple Tree Does Some Stunts

Talk about two and three crops of apples in one year, how does a crop of apples from a tree less than a year old strike you?

In September, 1912, F. M. Foutts set out an apple tree, ordinary nursery stock, in his yard, 209 South Sycamore. Last spring, when the tree was but a few months old, it blossomed and 'set' a crop of apples. Four of these reached maturity and ripened. Yesterday Mr. Foutts picked the last of the four, a big 'Roman Beauty,' which measured 12 1/4 inches in circumference and weighed 11 1/2 ounces.

SUGGESTS FOG BLANKET AS FRUIT PROTECTION

That Riverside orange growers should go into the manufacture of artificial fog banks as frost preventatives, is the contention of Tree Warden S. L. Wright of that city. Mr. Wright declares that in his opinion receptacles for holding water should be placed on the thousands of smudge pots in the Riverside orange-growing district.

He said the steam from the lighted pots would prove effective in raising the temperature of the entire section.

"The radiation of heat from steam is great, as everybody knows," said Mr. Wright. "My idea is that the moisture would form a kind of fog bank around the trees and would effectively hold in the heat radiating from the earth, in much the same way as the clouds did night before last. I believe the idea of making the smudge pots do double service in this way is entirely practicable. I would like to see it tried."

NOTED TENOR IS WELL RECEIVED

Leon Rice in Evening of Song:
Has Wonderful Voice—To Sing Again Tonight

Santa Ana music lovers turned out in large numbers last night to hear Leon Rice, the eminent New York tenor, in what he so aptly styles, "An Evening of Song." A program of rare excellence was given and enthusiasm was at a high pitch throughout the entire evening.

Mr. Rice is a singer whose every tone is produced with a certain poise and freedom that carries conviction and authority in everything he sings. The quality of his wonderful voice, given by nature and cultured by years of painstaking study, fascinates each of his hearers with a charm hard to describe, yet so real and potent that thrills follow one another in close succession through the entire program. Mr. Rice is a past master in program building. There is never a dull moment from the time he steps to the platform to the last note of his final encore. He selects his songs with his audience in mind, giving something for everyone, whether he or she be musically educated or entirely unschooled in things musical.

Song after song was rendered in a manner that Mr. Rice alone can give. Some were tender and appealing to the finest human senses; some rollicking songs of the sea, dashing and rhythmic; some were delicate tone pictures, exquisitely shaded; some were love songs, ardent and passionate; still others were songs of sacred messages, devout and full of spiritual uplift.

The freedom and ease with which Mr. Rice interpreted the various numbers would mislead the uninitiated as to the difficulties involved, and this is the true art of singing. To say that he charmed and delighted the audience last night is but expressing a part of the truth; captivated and thrilled would be more adequate terms. Mrs. Rice at the piano furnished accompaniments that were as near perfect as one could wish. Her playing is at once a delight to the eye and ear.

Tonight these splendid artists will present another program at the First M. E. church, and it is expected that the church will be filled to overflowing. Most of the songs tonight will be "by request," and will cover even a wider range than the program of last night.

Among others Mr. Rice will sing "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "The Holy City," "The Rosary," "The Ninety and Nine," "I Hear You Calling Me," "Mother o' Mine," "Sing Me to Sleep," "Beautiful Isle," and many old favorites of days that are gone. The church does not allow the selling of tickets, but has arranged with Mr. Rice's manager to give this treat to our people upon the following basis: A silver offering (not less than ten cents) from each person, at the door. Those who wish good seats are advised to be on hand early. Doors will be open at 7:30 o'clock.

HAS BOULEVARD TO COUNTY LINE

Long Beach Man Gets Deeds for the Right-of-Way

THROUGH TRAFFIC HIGHWAY ASSURED

Will Straighten Route for Connection With County Line

LONG BEACH, Dec. 23.—Frank S. Craig, president of the board of public works, ably aided and abetted by Mrs. Virginia S. Gundry, 123 West Ocean avenue, has consummated the deal, pending for two years, connecting East Ocean avenue via Livingston drive, with the Orange County boulevard, giving to Long Beach and points east a through highway, whereas former traffic was forced to diversion by a roundabout way.

To close the deal, meaning much to Long Beach and Orange County, it was necessary to come to terms with both the Pacific Electric railroad and the Alamitos Land Company.

Deeds Are Secured
Craig has actually secured a deal from the Alamitos Land Company. When Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric Company, was here this week, though not a word as to this particular portion of his mission was given out by that dignitary. Craig secured from Shoup the absolute promise of his company's deed to the other link necessary in the connecting chain.

AUTOMOBILES BUMP: NO ONE WAS INJURED

ANAHEIM, Dec. 23.—Two automobiles collided Saturday night at the Claudia street entrance of the alley at the rear of the Southern County Bank's building. Although the automobiles were considerably damaged, no one was hurt.

Fred Kurtz, formerly in the hardware business at Garden Grove, was coming out of the alley on to Claudia street and was driving his Studebaker touring car, when Wm. L. Kreuscher, the plumber, driving his plumbing car, turned into the alley from Claudia street, and the two machines met on the sidewalk. Kurtz's machine had a tire punctured, and the steering wheel and the running board were broken. The steering wheel on the Kreuscher machine was broken, and also a tire was punctured.

OIL WELL IS JUSTIFYING PREDICTIONS

Gusher Near Fullerton Has Already Produced $400,000

The Standard Oil Company's No. 7 well on the Emery lease in Coyote Hills, Fullerton field, is justifying earlier predictions that it would prove the best producer in the state. Although there have been larger wells in Midway, the gravity of the oil obtained from these has not been as high as in the case of Emery No. 7, nor has the flow been as steady, nor as well controlled.

The Emery well, which is still yielding nearly 9000 barrels a day, and which is partially shut in at that, has now produced nearly 500,000 barrels of oil since it came in about November 1. If all this oil were gathered together in one huge tank, that receptacle would contain about $400,000, at the field price of 85 cents a barrel for the oil content. Moreover, that same tank, if it were 100 feet high, would cover about three quarters of an acre.

The Standard Oil Company has lately finished the doubling of its six-inch pipe line from Northam to El Segundo, and it is said that another branch may become necessary when more wells are brought in on the Emery lease. The Standard has just cemented No. 5, as well as No. 1 on the McNally adjoining.

The company has been building a large number of storage tanks on the Emery lease, at Northam and El Segundo, to take care of the increased production.

HIS ANNUAL PROGRAM
The first week in December Mr. Growcher sits and scowls. His line of talk is something like a discontented cuss. He says this shopping early cry is all a needless ruse. If he were running things there'd be no Christmas anyhow.

The second week he takes a look in to the windows. His smile is superior, as to ambles on his way. If early shopping's mentioned he will give a surly shrug. And end the conversation by remarking: "I'm a sput!"

The third week he will turn his eyes away and grit his teeth. And try to look annoyed when he observes a holly wreath. If you mention early shopping he will resolutely bark: "I've not shopped early, and I don't propose to shop at all!"

But the fourth week finds him saying, as he joins the struggling line: "I must make a few exceptions for some special friends of mine." And while loading up with bundles he remarks with many a sigh: "Next year I'm going to start my Christmas shopping in July!"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—Long Yep, said to be the first Chinese policeman in America, will be the guest of honor tonight at a banquet given by his countrymen. Other guests will be Chief of Police Sebastian and the city police commissioners.

Long's appointment proved so successful an experiment that after January 1 a squad of Chinese police probably will be sworn in. Their work will be confined to Chinatown and special detail. In his first official report Long recited the theft from his own poultry yard of three chickens, a duck and a turkey. He was detailed on the case and secured the arrest and conviction of the thief.

NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK

By Carlton Ten Eyck

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—A small army of workmen today were busy in Madison Square, that haven of the homeless and helpless, setting up the biggest Christmas tree that could be found in the Maine woods. The tree is the gift of the Idealists and a band of charitable people of wealth who choose to hide their identities, if not their light under a bushel. It is a tree for all the people and when its myriad and multi-colored electric lights are turned on Wednesday at nightfall, it will become the beacon of "peace on earth and good will to men" beacon for those derelicts of the Square and the districts below it, the East Side and the Bowery who will know no other Christmas emblem.

The tree will hold no other presents. The Idealists are Sages. It will shed merely lights and color, but that is novel enough for the sad ones who come from all the out-of-the-way corners of the city to look at it. Their lives are colorless and know little light. The tree will be lighted from sunset to midnight every night during Christmas week.

The Idealists inaugurated the Madison Square Christmas tree last year and it proved such a success that they decided to make it an annual feature. Men, women and children came nightly by thousands to look at the brilliantly illuminated sign of Christmas, and some sat for hours on the park benches, gazing at the lights. The tree seemed to have a fascination for some. Many of the same people came every night. Observant watchers noticed that some looked wistfully and appreciatively, while others looked a bit scornful when they first came, but all went away looking more hopeful than when they came. That was what made the unknown charitable ones determine on the tree as a yearly thing, the hopefulness that it seemed to bring.

Broadway farers are on the anxious seat again. Police Inspector Dwyer is back on the job and enforcing the 1 a. m. closing law to the letter and to the minute. The late Mayor Gaynor was a firm believer in early closing of cafes and restaurants, and was supposed to be the father of it. When he died it was whispered about, groundlessly, that Mayor Kline would ease up a bit and allow the lid to tilt. About that time Inspector Dwyer, the nemesis of late—or early, it depending on one's point of view—hours on the Great White Way, went on a vacation.

It was just a coincidence, of course, for Dwyer's vacation to come at the time of the change of the mayors, and no official order ever was given to loosen up on Longacre Square and contiguous territory. But when the police cat is away Tenderloin mirth will play, and the word went around that it was safe to keep the merry-merry going a little after the legal closing hour, lengthening the trespass gradually so as not to attract any hue and cry. Seen the much abused Iki looked like a Swiss cheese. Then Dwyer came back. His coming was not announced in the police bulletin or the newspapers, but everybody knew it an hour after he struck the White Light district. At 1 a. m. he marched his men into five resorts whose managers and patrons supposed that everything was lovely again, and ordered them to close. He enforced his order by showing the men and women out of the places. That was the beginning and now Broadway is dark an hour after midnight.

The stillness, thick enough to cut with a knife, is as much in evidence as in the late lamented Mayor Gaynor's time. During the lull several of the places in the Forties, that went out of business, were open again. The Tokio put in a tango floor and threw its doors wide open. The closed Green Turtle put in a cabaret and biosomed out as the Latin Quarter. Such places are the hardest hit by the early closing, because they cannot exist on the patronage they receive during the scant hour and a half between the close of the theatres and the curfew.

Many good Democrats of New York are uneasy these days. Mayor John Purroy Mitchell will take office a week from next Thursday and he has not announced a single appointment. He has said that he will make known none of the men who will get offices under him until December 31.

At the same time he has said some significant things considering no slate put up to him by any political leader and about appointing men on merit only and paying no attention to party service.

The Christmas dinner of many a politician will be eaten without zest because he does not know whether or not he will get the slice of pie he worked for so hard last November.

WILSON GETS ADDRESS FROM HOME OF ANCESTOR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, called upon President Wilson yesterday afternoon to present an illuminated address sent by the council of the city of Carlisle, England, the home of the President's grandfather, the Rev. Thomas Woodrow, and the birthplace of his grandmother. The Rev. Thomas Woodrow was pastor of the Congregationalist church of Carlisle from 1829 to 1835.

The address renders the president heartiest congratulations on his election to the high and distinguished office of president, and expresses the hope that the chief executive may be endowed with health and strength to perform the arduous duties of his great office.

GUARDING AGAINST CROUP

—The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Ginn, Middletown, Ga., writes, "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold. I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured. We keep it at home and prevent croup." Use it also for coughs, colds, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchial and lagrippe coughs. It contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Wood's Drug Store.

CONVICTED MINISTER SEEKING PROBATION

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 23.—The Rev. Charles Lawrence of Pasadena, a retired Presbyterian minister, yesterday petitioned Judge B. G. Bledsoe for probation on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Lawrence was convicted by a jury last week and the stay in the execution of the sentence yesterday saved him from arriving at the state's prison on Christmas day.

The court continued the case until January 26, at which time he will hear the evidence in support of the motion for probation.

POSTMASTER GENERAL IS OPPOSING CHANGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Postmaster George Burleson is opposed to the proposal to take assistant postmasters from the protection of civil service, which is embodied in the annual appropriation bill in the hands of the house postoffice committee. Mr. Burleson in a letter to Chairman Moon characterized such a plan as detrimental to the public service.

LEVENGOOD AGAIN TO ENTER CHARIOT RACES AT PASADENA

PASADENA, Dec. 23.—Not in many years has there been the same interest in the chariot races for the Tournament of Roses as there is regarding those which will take place next week. For several seasons these spectacular contests have narrowed down to a few horsemen in Southern California, each of whom has had a fairly clear idea of the talent he had to meet. This year, however, an Easterner has entered the big event, attracted by the large purse offered. His name is William Dolley, and he brings a team of four of the best horses in Kentucky. The other entrants are E. J. Levengood of Pomona, formerly of Santa Ana; Mac Wiggins, of Walnut, and D. J. Cornell of Portersville. The latter three have been seen in action before, and even their magnificent exhibitions of previous years doubtless will be surpassed in order that the confident outsider's defeat may be assured.

As the time for the big pageant draws near it is apparent that the street parade is going to be a marvel of beauty and extent. There are many entries being made by cities in the immediate vicinity, the splendid Brock trophy having proved an incentive to various civic bodies. The royal large, attended by other floats carrying a retinue of 50 kings and queens of all nations, the Mother Goose rhymes typified in flowers, and the paradise of children section, are among the other attractions in the floral parade, which assuredly will be the longest of its kind ever seen in the world.

In addition to the chariot races at the park, it is now evident that the amateur athletes of the west will be out in force to participate in the track and field events which will open the day's entertainment at Tournament Park. These contests, the hippodrome race between three teams of three horses each, one man striding each team, and straight running horse races are also on the long bill of novelties.

THE VICAR AND HIS WIFE IN "THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE"

EXCELLENCE MARKS "ROSARY" LAST NIGHT

"The Rosary," at the Grand Opera House last night was all that was promised for it, and more. It is the kind of a play that one remembers, and the cast that put it on last night did it full justice. The next offering that Manager McCulloch has for Santa Ana theatergoers is that splendid play, "The Blindness of Virtue," on Friday night of this week.

AMUSEMENTS

Grand Opera House
"The Blindness of Virtue" had a long run in London and has been acted for protracted periods in all the large cities in the East. It is now in its second season in this country.

"The Blindness of Virtue" is a drama of modern life, serious in purpose, full of human interest and pregnant with food for thought. The author's obvious intent is to bring home to parents the necessity of safeguarding their daughters by teaching them the sacred duty of motherhood in order that they may continue pure and unsullied. The author lays down a broad general principle and illustrates it by the example of two widely differing characters.

It is said that Mr. Hamilton in his exceedingly interesting play, has drawn English characters that are delightful even to American audiences; that he has shown consummate skill in the delineation of a pure, sweet, innocent 17-year-old girl, daughter of a broad-minded, big-hearted vicar. This young girl is so absolutely untrammelled by contact with the outer world, that when love comes to her she responds to it as does the dainty flower to the warmth of the spring sun. She is free and unafraid. Love to her is as natural as it is to the doves she cherishes. She is ardent, impulsive, demonstrative. She loves the young man who is being tutored by her father, and frankly admits it. Her childlike innocence makes that love beautiful, and its naive expression as lovely as the caress of a babe in its mother's arms. It appears here Dec. 26.

Sale of General Petroleum

Control of the General Petroleum Company, together with the option held on the Union Oil Company, passed to the English Syndicate headed by Andrew Weir, for $24,000,000 according to Captain John Barneson, Vice President and managing director of the Company, who negotiated the deal and who will be retained as managing director by the new owners. In an interview Captain Barneson is quoted as saying:

"Mr. Weir, who is at present representative of the syndicate, and R. Tilden Smith will be here December 18 and will look the entire field over. Before the option on Union Oil expires most, if not all, of the members of the syndicate will have visited California. They will, to a large extent, be the users of their own product, as their ships will take a great deal of the production. They are not affiliated with any other oil company and are new in the business. On December 20 the Siam, a 1,000-ton Diesel motor boat, will arrive at San Pedro, having come by way of the Suez Canal. When the Panama Canal is ready, however, the syndicate will send its merchantmen through that way and all of them will take oil at San Pedro. It is one of the largest owners and operators of ships in the world. Their coming into California will mean large outlays of money for drillers, labor, supplies and machinery. There will be no oil fight. That would be a bad thing for the oil industry and no one would benefit, but there is no intention on the part of the English company of engaging in any but those lines which make for the development and upbuilding of the industry."

Secretary McAdoo's Report

In his first annual report submitted to Congress by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, the Secretary reviews the achievements of the Treasury Department in matters that have been of nation-wide interest. He discusses at length the subject of currency legislation, reviewing the activities in his department related to it. He speaks of an unrest in business circles following the beginning of the special session of Congress in April, refers to a "propaganda of pessimism which, designedly or not, produced a condition of extreme nervousness and tension," and points to his announcement in June that the Treasury was ready to issue $500,000,000 of emergency currency under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act to prevent restriction of credits and to ease any situation. Regarding the income tax it is shown that individuals subject to the tax number 425,000 and corporations not heretofore subject to the tax number 150,000.

Canned Salmon Output

That over 6,140,000 cases of canned salmon were packed on the Pacific Coast of North America during the season of 1912 will seem to many people a surprising statement, says the Wide World Magazine, but it is true, and, furthermore, if all the tins used that season—294,762,576 one-pound cans—were laid end to end they would extend in a straight line for over 21,500 miles, or would come within about 3500 miles of encircling the globe at the Equator. To fill these cans some 67,500,000 salmon were needed, while some 20,000,000 more were required for the preparation of smoked, pickled, mild-cured and frozen salmon. Several other millions were sold in a fresh condition and the whole product was valued at something like $35,000,000.

Associated Oil Ownership

In the hearing now being conducted in the United States Court in San Francisco, as part of the trial of a Government suit to cancel patent to certain section of land held by the Southern Pacific in the Elk Hills District, it was brought out that the sole ownership of the Associated Oil Company is now vested in the Southern Pacific. In 1910 William F. Herrin surrendered his trusteeship of the majority of the stock in Associated Oil Company, owned by the Southern Pacific, to the latter and since then the railroad company has been sole owner.

Tobacco Company Fined

Indicted for alleged conspiracy to depress prices paid for tobacco to farmers about Morganville, Ky., the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Imperial Tobacco Company of Kentucky, which have been on trial for alleged violation of Kentucky's anti-trust laws, were found guilty. Two separate verdicts were returned and a fine of $3500 assessed against each defendant.

Cotton Growing In California

Cotton growing industry has been inaugurated and is proving unusually successful in Placer County, near Roseville, 110 miles north of San Francisco. The staple was started on a piece of ground owned by the agent in charge of the railway pumping station there.

Nevada Power Site Reserve

With the approval of President Wilson an order has been issued by Secretary Lane creating a power site reserve in Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River, 20 miles east of Las Vegas, Nev. It is expected the construction will develop 40,000 horsepower at a minimum of expense.

Cotton Compress Installed

The new compressor of the New Gln Company of Calexico, which was recently installed, is now in operation and the first bale of cotton was ginned and compressed Saturday. The cotton crop about Calexico this year is estimated at $1,250,000 in value.

When the Canal is Open

John B. Stormouth, a sheep raiser of New Zealand, declares that as soon as the Panama Canal is opened he "will begin shipping lamb to New York and will sell it there at six cents a pound." This price, he also declares, will return him a nice profit.

Greatest Insurance Policy

Fire insurance companies have just completed in Montreal the writing of what it is believed will be the largest single insurance policy ever issued. It insures property of the Canadian Pacific Railroad for upwards of $100,000,000. The property is valued at between $112,000,000 and $115,000,000.

Exclusive of stocks which he held in 19 corporations and bonds in nine others, the value of which was not given, the late Architect Daniel H. Burnham of Chicago left an estate, according to an inventory filed this week, of over $1,000,000.

Los Angeles County is Richest

Los Angeles County is the richest county in the State, according to figures compiled by State Comptroller Chambers, and just made public, her assessed valuation being $793,234,027. It will pay a County and Exposition tax of $5,585,433. Her gain in assessed valuation over last year is $195,781,359.

San Francisco is the second richest county, with an assessed valuation of $623,847,729, an increase over last year of $78,783,382, and will pay a total tax of $11,839,432, which represents the cost of both city and county governments.

For the support and maintenance of the 58 county governments in the State for the fiscal year 1914 and including $1,244,755 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the people will pay in taxes the sum of $38,695,140, an increase over the last fiscal year of $6,275,479.

The total property valuation upon which this tax is based is $2,963,707,539 against an aggregate last year of $2,462,178,048, showing a gain in values in one year of $501,529,497, a most remarkable showing as it discloses a most remarkable growth and development of the State.

It should be understood that taxes levied for special purposes, by districts or for the cost of municipal government, except in the case of the city and county of San Francisco, are not included in the figures announced. Neither do the county taxes include the corporation taxes, which are paid direct to the State.

Taxpayers in the incorporated cities of the State will pay $22,027,268 toward the support of county governments on an "inside" assessed valuation of $1,951,729,418, segregated as follows:

Operative real estate and improvements.....$ 118,491,061

Non-operative real estate and improvements.....1,444,527,618

Operative personal property and money.....18,179,927

Non-operative personal property and money.....222,892,954

Property outside of municipalities will pay $15,424,115 on the balance of the $38,695,140 tax on "inside" assessed valuations as follows:

Operative real estate and improvements.....$ 27,385,974

Non-operative real estate and improvements.....$31,123,982

Operative personal property and money.....18,179,927

Non-operative personal property and money.....136,288,283

Long Beach Must Pay Penalty

Long Beach will have to defend itself in court in suits which are based on the disaster there, Empire day, May 24 last, in which damages aggregating $250,000 are demanded for losses of lives and injuries. This sum may be largely increased. The decision of the Superior Court, Judge Jackson presiding, in overruling demurrers of the city in the case of J. Chajor, who sued the city of Long Beach for $15,500 for personal damages, settled the matter, his ruling being that the city can be sued for damages.

In another case, that of M. A. Pace and his wife, Kate B. Pace, who sued for $70,000 damages for injuries received in the disaster, the city demurred to the complaint alleging that the complaint did not set up sufficient facts to constitute a cause for action. This was heard by Judge Shenk, who overruled the demurrer.

It is said that many more actions will now be filed, in view of these rulings, for injuries inflicted by the collapse of the Municipal pier.

Kansas Crop Value

The value of Kansas farm products, with livestock added for this year is estimated by Secretary Coburn, of the State Board of Agriculture, at $507,000,000. This amount has been exceeded by each of the four years immediately preceding. The value of crops alone is less than for any year since 1901 and about $95,000,000 under that of a year ago. The increased value of livestock has held up the total. Animals slaughtered or sold, poultry, dairy produce and fruits and vegetables exceeded last year's value by nearly $12,000,000. The yield of corn this year is 18,420,000 bushels, the smallest since 1874. Wheat yielded 72,458,000 bushels and oats 28,126,000 bushels. The state's tame hay crop is worth $18,527,000.

Salt Lake Route Officials

Directors of the Salt Lake route at a meeting on Tuesday re-elected these officers: President, W. A. Clark; First Vice-President, W. H. Bancroft; Second Vice-President, J. Ross Clark; Secretary, W. H. Comstock; Treasurer, William Leete; General Manager, H. C. Nutt; Chief Engineer, E. G. Tilton. The Executive Committee is composed of W. A. Clark, Judge R. S. Lovett of the Union Pacific System, New York; R. C. Kerens of St. Louis, and C. B. Seger of Chicago. No action was taken in the matter of electing a successor in the Auditor's office. In the meanwhile J. E. Farrell, who was Assistant Auditor, is filling the Auditor's place.

Scores Anti-Trust Law

"The common law protected a manufacturer in marketing his goods and getting whatever price he could for them honestly. The Supreme Court is drifting away from the old rules of common law and wiping out its protection. The Sherman law is retrogressive in every particular." This is the comment of Judge William Putnam of the United States District Court, in Boston, in connection with the Government's proceeding to dissolve the United States Machinery Company in his Court. The bath tub case was cited as an example.

Leather Magnate Called

Litigation is Costly

That litigation is costly is demonstrated in the matter of the estate of Carl A. Jewell in Los Angeles. Jewell was killed in an auto accident. His estate was appraised at $16,000. Litigation resulted and all but $1000 has been taken.

NEWSPAPER MEN OF STATE STUDY FRUIT

National Orange Show to Entertain Writers of California

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 23.—For the benefit of the newspaper men of California, the National Orange Show to be held here February 18 to 25, is to inaugurate a citrus fruit educational bureau, in the charge of leading fruit men and citrus experts.

The California Press Association has accepted the invitation of the National Orange Show to attend the exposition. The newspaper men will arrive here in a special train and will be the guests of the exposition. From San Bernardino the party is to go to the Imperial Valley.

In addition to the social features to be arranged for the visiting newspaper men and their families, the Orange Show is to be more than a mere sight-seeing excursion. The party will be placed in charge of citrus fruit experts, during a portion of their inspection of the exposition and its millions of samples of oranges and lemons, and if there is anything about California's greatest industry the newspaper men do not know they will be instructed.

F. W. Richardson of Berkeley, president of the State Press Association, has written A. G. Kendall, president of the Orange Show, of the acceptance of the invitation.

30,000 VOICES!

And Many Are the Voices of Santa Ana People

Thirty thousand voices—what a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say, "It is friends. They tell it in the home papers. Santa Ana people are in this chorus. Here's a Santa Ana case:

Mrs. J. M. Osgood, 516 Bush St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I suffered from pains throughout my body. I was nervous and couldn't get much rest at night. My joints were swollen and rheumatic. I felt miserable in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be just the medicine I needed. They drove away the pains and aches and toned up my system. That happened some years ago. Several times since, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have been satisfactory in every way. I give them credit for keeping me well. After I first used Doan's Kidney Pills I publicly told of my experience and I can say that they are all they are claimed to be."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

There was no advance in the price of eggs yesterday morning despite the fact that San Francisco went up to 47 cents and that Chicago was also higher, both on fresh and storage stock. The principal reason for this steadiness of the 43-cent price was the fact that 268 cases were received over Sunday and on days prior the arrivals have been rather heavy. Southern California being in advance of other sections of the country in the raising of the egg crop and increased quantities for use.

Butter was fairly active and receipts were 28,615 pounds. The call was largely for the best creamery, of which there is no great superabundance as there is of second grades. Prices were steady in the north and east.

Potatoes are more than plentiful and the demand for them is not moving them sufficiently fast to cause prices to go up. Arrivals from the east are still large. The total arrivals yesterday were 4084 cacks.

COMMUNITY XMAS AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Dec. 23.—When Clevelanders awoke today the stage was set for one of the greatest public celebrations the city has ever known. The celebration is to be known as "Community Christmas," and Cleveland has the honor of being one of the first big cities in the country to inaugurate the idea.

A Christmas tree almost fifty feet high, decorated profusely with toys and various colored electric bulbs, has been placed on the big public square in the center of the city. Bandstands have been erected about it, and tonight the festivities will start. The object of the "Community Christmas" is to combine the activities of various charitable organizations and make the giving of Christmas cheer to the poor and needy a matter of civic duty. In the past the Associated Charities, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America and other charitable societies have separately ministered to the needy.

This year a committee of thirty-five prominent citizens, including Mayor Baker and Lieutenant Governor Greenlund, took charge of all charitable activities, and they boast that not a person in this city of over 600,000 souls will be without a good meal and warm clothing on Christmas day. A unique method of raising funds was devised. A few weeks ago all the downtown stores placed on sale shares of stock in the "Community Christmas Company." The shares were sold for $1 each.

The certificates were made out in due legal form. They stated the Community Christmas Company would return the original investment with interest, not in money, but in satisfaction—a feeling that your investment had gone to make some unfortunate person or family happy on the day on which was declared "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." The stock sold, even beyond the expectations of some of the most enthusiastic backers.

On Christmas eve a great canvas screen will be spread at one side of the public square, and upon it will be thrown the words of patriotic and Yuletide songs. There will be speeches and bands about the big Christmas tree, while an elaborate program has been arranged by various singing societies.

There has been established a holiday "clearing house," and Clevelanders have been asked to send the names of needy families to the committee in charge, which will prepare the lists sent in, eliminate duplications and see that every needy person in the city is supplied with food and clothing.

The tree will be lighted nightly until New Year. On New Year eve another celebration will take place which is expected to replace the hilarious scenes in cafes and hotels which have characterized the observance of holidays in previous years.

CHRISTMAS DINNER
At Hotel Rochester, Orange. Reservations must be made not later than Tuesday evening, the 23rd. Will not promise any service except reservations are made. Limit 125 persons. $1.00 per plate.

SOUTHEAST TEXAS GREAT TURKEY CENT. R

Southwest Texas is the world's turkey center. The raising of the national bird is one of the best-paying industries of the section. Cuero is the shipping center of the region and between 150,000 and 200,000 turkeys will be "trotted" into Cuero this year. Four days preceding Thanksgiving were given to turkey festivities. Each day there was a genuine "turkey trot" of thousands of birds through the streets of Cuero. Governor Colquitt and his military staff heading the second day's "trot," and every evening there were balls and dances for the entertainment of visitors.

This region of Texas is the natural home of the turkey. It flourishes here as in no other part of the United States. The weather is mild, the food is abundant. Farmers know long ago that they had ideal conditions for producing turkeys, but nothing was done along this line until two cold-storage plants were erected at Cuero. And it is this which has made Cuero the biggest shipping point for dressed turkeys in the United States—Los Angeles.

GERMANY TOY LAND OF EARTH

15,000 Inhabitants at Sonneberg in Santa Claus' Employ

By KARL VON WIEGAND
(Berlin Correspondent of the United Press)

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—The world's Toyland is Germany, and Santa Claus' capital and headquarters are not at the North Pole, but at Sonneberg (Sun Mountain), a town in the Duchy of Meiningen, on the edge of the great Thuringian forest. Almost the entire population of the city of 15,000 inhabitants is in the employ of Santa Claus. Every household is a workshop for Santa. Germany exported toys to the value of $20,000,000 last year. From the raids made on the shops by Old Kris Kringle this year, the figures are expected to reach between $24,000,000 and $25,000,000.

Santa Claus is more generous to his little friends in the United States than to the children of any European country. Last year he shipped 267 carloads of toys from Sonneberg and Nuremberg to New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Galveston and San Francisco, from which cities he distributed them to American boys and girls all over the country. That some complained to him about being forgotten seems to be the case, for this year Old Santa shipped 320 carloads to America. America is Germany's best toy customer. It took this year considerably more than one-third of the total output of Santa's workshops for the entire world. America's toy bill for the year 1913 will approximate $8,000,000.

The toy industry of Germany has very little competition. In it are employed thousands of men, women, boys and girls. The centers of the industry are the quaint old towns of Sonneberg and Nuremberg. Nuremberg is Santa's workshop for railroad trains, tin soldiers, aeroplanes, air ships, guns, cannon, swords, drums and the countless other toys that on Christmas gladden the hearts of countless thousands. Sonneberg, however, is the aristocratic capital of Toyland. It is the doll-making of the world, and where dolls of every shade, clime and country are made. Sonneberg is also the Paris of Doll-dom, for Sonneberg sets fashion and styles in dolls and all things pertaining to dolls, as arbitrarily as Paris set the styles for the world of fashion. Thousands of deft little fingers work in the millinery and dressmaking shops of Doll Land, designing and making the latest in hats and gowns, and all that goes with the outfits of Doll-dom's elite. The tendency of mama toward extravagance in dress is having its effect in Doll Land. Dollies nowadays must be more beautiful than ever. Wealthy little misses nowadays demand of Santa that he bring them dollies with as many dresses as a Newport society belle. Many of these elaborate outfits represent an outlay of money that would keep several poor children in comfortable clothing all winter.

The utilitarian, practical and commercial instincts of the American boy are fully recognized by Santa Claus and he caters to them. The American boys care little for guns, swords and cannon as compared with the European lads. Santa Claus therefore ships carloads of railroad trains, engines, electric motors, steam cranes, electric cars, tool boxes, etc., to the United States. But the doll remains empress and queen of the entire world of little girls and Toyland. It varies in prices from two cents to $25 and even more, and in color from the little kinky-haired pickaninny for Africa and the Southern states, and the albinized baby and the sandalled doll for the Japanese and Chinese, to the blue-eyed, tow-headed doll of Norway, Sweden, Russia and Germany, but always the same—a doll.
